Teaching :

Since 2002	Theoretical Physics and Information Processing : Interaction and Mutual Penetration (advanced course); see the syllabus on here.
Since 2002	Quantum Computing (advanced course); see the syllabus here.
Since 2000	Mathematical Logic, Geometry, Differential Equations (undergraduate and graduate curricula)
Since 1996	Mathematical Logic in Computer Science (advanced course)
Since 1983	Pontryagin's Optimization Control Methods in Application to Economic Models (advanced course)
Since 1979	Theoretical Computer Science (advance course)

Scientific and Research Leadership and Administration :

Since 2000	Leader of the interdisciplinary research team (mathematicians, computer scientists, physicists, and biologists of the Strasbourg University) on Quantum and Molecular Information Processing and Computing .
Since 2000	Co-leader of the international interdisciplinary research team on Mathematical Methods in Molecular Biology .
Since 1991	Being expelled from the USSR as a religious and political dissident (October 4, 1978), has been invited, after the fall of the communism and opening of Russia, by the Russian Scientific and Financial Commissions of the Russian Parliament to participate in the post-communist reconstruction, by establishing of a permanent presence of C.
